Ruling on request to place proceedings into abeyance

1. On February 24, 2025, Red Willow Solar Inc. (RWSI) filed a motion requesting that the Alberta Utilities Commission place this proceeding into abeyance until April 9, 2025, and to suspend all associated deadlines accordingly.<sup>1</sup>
2. In its motion, RWSI explained that having reviewed a recent decision from the Commission, Decision 28847-D01-2025,<sup>2</sup> it intends to amend and supplement the applications filed in this proceeding and requires the requested abeyance period to do so. RWSI also submitted that the requested abeyance period will allow it to provide fulsome responses to outstanding information requests from the interveners and Commission.
3. The Commission has instructed the writer to communicate the following.
4. The Commission finds that granting RWSI's request to place the proceeding into abeyance is reasonable in the circumstances and is satisfied that providing RWSI the time to amend and supplement its applications will contribute to the fair, expeditious and efficient resolution of the issues in this proceeding. Consequently, the Commission grants RWSI's request and places this proceeding into abeyance effective immediately.
5. The Commission directs RWSI to provide an update on the status of the applications by April 9, 2025.
6. Given the granting of RWSI's motion for abeyance, the existing process schedule is suspended until further direction is provided by the Commission. Also, the Commission suspends the process to consider RWSI's motion for confidential treatment of certain information<sup>3</sup> and the Red Willow Landowners Group's motion for further and better information request responses from RWSI.<sup>4</sup>
